Expert help and guidance, with that all-important human touch, will be a prerequisite to making your travels as seamless as possible in a world where transcending borders is now more intricate. We're here, whenever you're ready, to decipher the wealth of information and what that means for you; selecting the right experiences to ensure the safest and most private travel possibilities so you can love the world again.

The secret ingredients...

Unlock the secret to better travel right now

COLLABORATION

Behold a collection of collaborations that bring key luxury brands together to co-create unique and innovative travel experiences for affluent travellers who dream of an escape this year. Collaborating one-to-one, we aim to bring you exclusive first access to bespoke, handcrafted trips created to make luxury travel possible for the coming months. We've partnered with those who are leading the way to deliver high standards of care, uncompromised experience and with true consideration for our clients; together we bring the unattainable, unavailable and unexpected.

CURATION

Luxury is out, bespoke luxury is in. You'll want to look beyond simply a five star hotel and first class flights; curation comes with the simplest of detail such as reducing wasted time queuing in airports to securing exclusive use of a highly sought-after hideaway – planning your precious leisure time to perfection is our greatest pleasure and it's the skills of our curators that turn a trip from mediocre to down-right marvellous. A bespoke approach is a prerequisite for travelling better in a new world – when it's more personal, it's more pleasurable.

CARE

From health-enhancing experiences, spirit-lifting exercise in the open air and safe escapes for quality time with your nearest and dearest, our holidays have been curated with the diligence and careful attention to detail required when it comes to your care. We aim to minimise your time in queues and crowds, travelling with privacy, space, security and exclusivity. Uncover the safest destinations with no entry restrictions or quarantine requirements and accommodations leading the way in new initiatives for travellers who may be more cautious.

THERE IS A COMMON PURPOSE AT THE HEART OF WHAT WE DO

It's about how we make people feel

As you re-enter the world, it's people who will make the real difference. We want you to feel special, to bring joy to the conversations we might have. You won't find us distracted handling multiple chats at once or in a rush to move on to the next booking – perfection cannot be hurried and we give you our undivided attention.

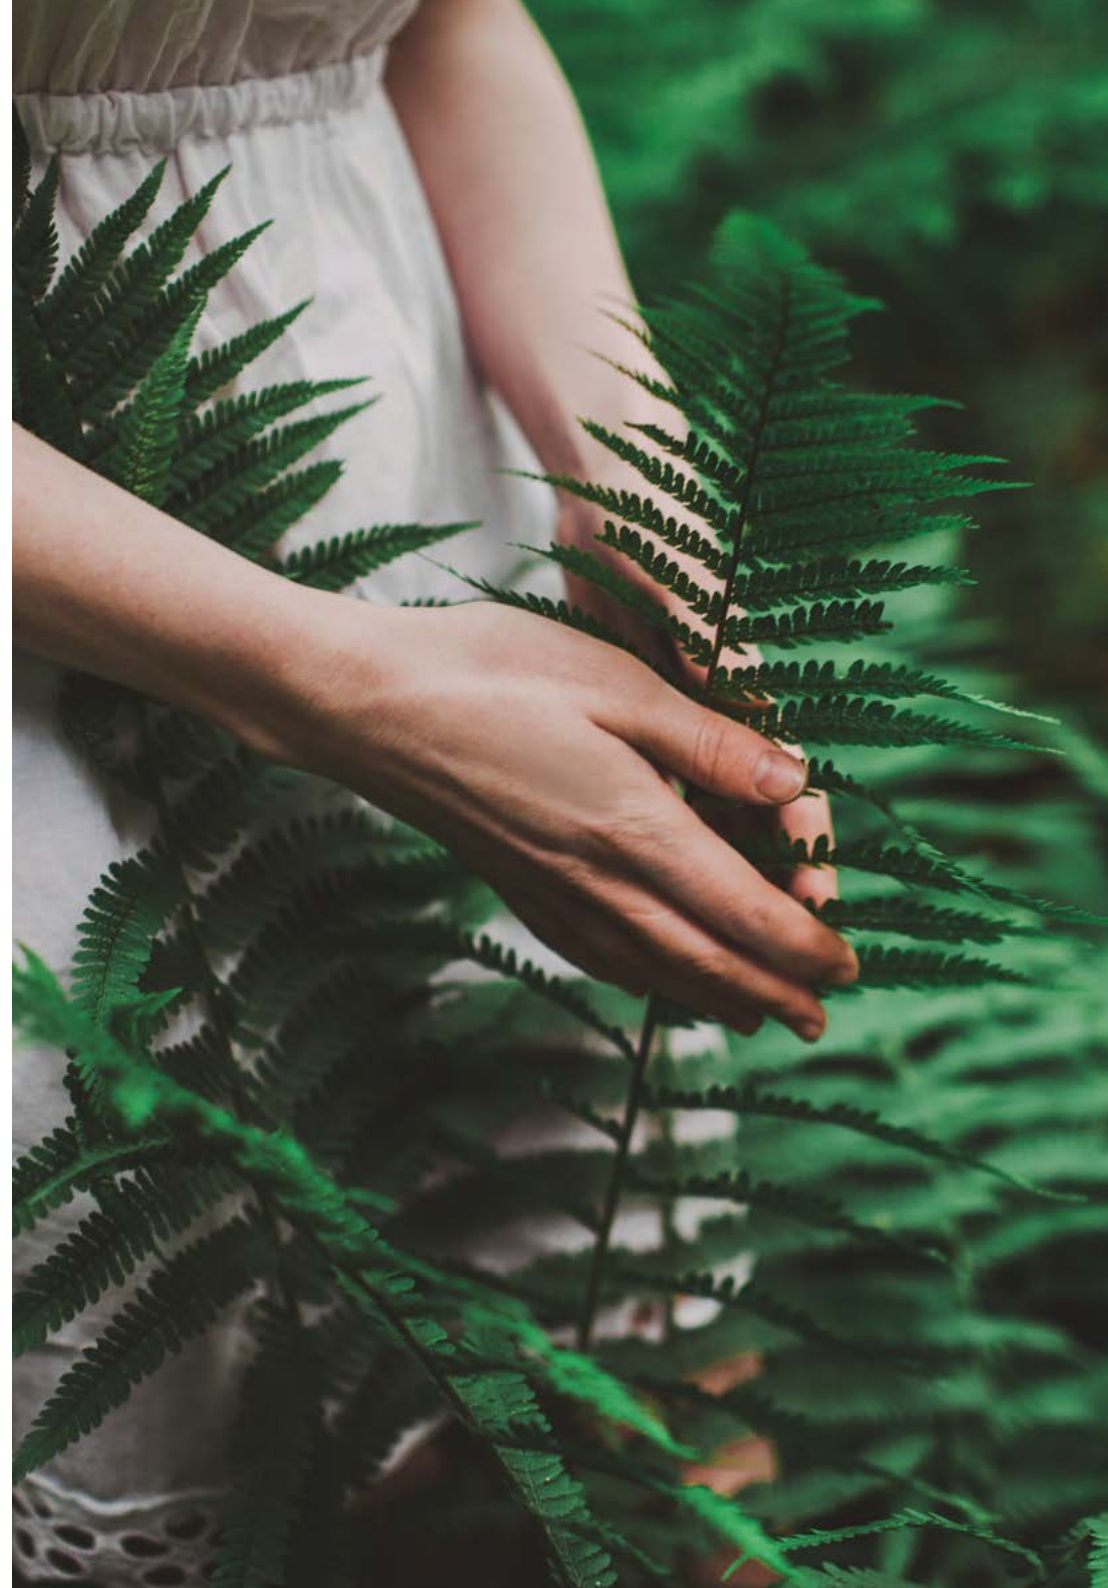

We want you to feel secure, safe in the knowledge that your health and well-being has been carefully considered and taken care of. We are open, honest, transparent and empathetic, above all, we bring the most important and valuable element to your experience – the human touch.

Whatever your journey; to feel more calm and relaxed, to cement closer bonds with loved ones you've missed, to open up your mind to new cultures, to challenge yourself or have a hands-on positive impact on the planet and communities you visit – our belief is your time should be spent on the right experiences and our purpose is to design your days away to feel richer and happier.

A dedicated, personal travel expert will own and manage your holiday from initial enquiry through to you returning home. This means they have a wealth of knowledge and contacts on any single booking, remaining accessible and available when you need them. Negotiating and liaising with partners on your behalf, our experts are highly attuned and empathetic to your needs. They go beyond to ensure your trip is meaningful and memorable.

Feel safe. Feel special.

IN A MORE COMPLEX WORLD

For those who are itching to escape as soon as possible, there are limitations on where you can go, an avalanche of information and new guidelines, and not enough time to research the mind boggling number of variations. What's more, with talk of electrostatic sprayers, ultraviolet light technology and touch-less check-ins at hotels; to social distancing, temperature checks and compulsory face coverings in airports, there'll undoubtedly be a change in the way we think, act and venture back into the wider world. Our aim is to make your journeys less complex and more seamless in a world where travel comes with extra considerations.

We are well-versed in planning trips with multiple, moving parts; facilitating demands of privacy and exclusivity, as well as the behind-the-scenes legwork to co-ordinate a smooth end-to-end experience. In this new climate, our insight and expertise, creativity and imagination, accompanied by our close network of facilitators and connectors will open up your mind to awe-inspiring possibilities and ensure you travel better.

Our aim is to make your journeys less complex and more seamless in a world where travel comes with extra considerations.

FOR WHEN YOU

just can't wait...

When travel restrictions lift creating a window of opportunity, or you suddenly find a gap in your diary, last minute time away often means you haven't had a moment to plan where to spend it. Luckily for you, at Carrier impulse escapes are our forte, leaving you free of all the research and planning responsibilities. Spontaneity doesn't mean forgoing the things most important to you or compromising on an incredible experience. Whether you're thinking to leave in seven days or seven hours, with us it's not about finding a reduced deal and accepting what's left; we'll facilitate the same extraordinary opportunities and bespoke service that some can only pull off with months of preparation.

If you do turn to Google, don't be disheartened with an endless lack of availability, deals for flights with unsociable travel times and rooms that others had rejected; booking last minute doesn't have to mean missing out on the very best suites and seats on the plane. We don't solely rely on technology for availability because we have something better: leveraging our intimate relationships and connections to negotiate on your behalf. We use our skills and mastery to navigate complicated airline systems and speak one-on-one with our suppliers, often securing hotel rooms and suites where others can't. And if availability is an issue, we're determined to be creative and resourceful in finding you a surprising alternative.

For any concerns about travelling during COVID-19, we'll do everything in our power to reassure you. Count on us to decipher the changing updates and understand what that means for you; we'll use our inside knowledge to advise on which countries are safest to travel to and their entry requirements or quarantine restrictions, meaning all you need to do is focus on getting that suitcase packed. You can also rest assured knowing that if Foreign, Commonwealth & Development Office advice changes at short notice before you depart, you can still cancel with a full refund. Or if UK quarantine restrictions are imposed while you're away, we're on hand to facilitate a speedy return home should you require it.

*So what are you waiting for?
Embrace your spontaneous side and put on that out of office.*

Private journey...

FOR ABSOLUTE COMFORT, COMPLETE PRIVACY AND CONSIDERABLE STYLE

As airports and airlines start to share the steps they are taking to make fliers feel comfortable again, Carrier already facilitate more private pathways to get clients to where they need to be. From private jets, security fast-track and private check-in, to your own departure lounge and the option to board first or last, we work closely with exclusive airport service providers around the globe to enhance your safety and minimise your journey time.

PREMIUM CLASS TRAVEL

In-flight services may not offer the usual experience but premium travel is likely to become more valuable than ever. The added privacy and roomier spaces of flying business or first class can provide the reassurance to those clients wishing to keep a safe distance from others.

Alongside dedicated check-in and lounges, faster security processes and home-to-hotel luggage delivery options all provide for an easier and more enjoyable experience away from the crowds.

PRIVATE JETS

If you don't want to plan around a flight, we can plan a flight around you. Travelling by private jet offers more flexibility with a boutique service, getting you where you need to be in absolute comfort, complete privacy and considerable style. You can fly from smaller, local airports; you are not required to enter main terminals of airports or arrive hours before your flight. These are escapes that take you from door to door.

Eliminate air travel stress by having a security-cleared, personal agent coordinate your movements and whisk you through the airport.

ENHANCED AIRPORT EXPERIENCE

A service that very few people in the world are aware of... You can now have a 'private jet experience' even with a commercial flight, with your own lounge and check-in, security fast-track and more. You can bypass the commercial terminal routes and crowds – and with discretion guaranteed, this is the only way to ensure complete privacy and luxury.

An enhanced experience

Trust

MEANS EVERYTHING

We know you have choices and may be more cautious about who you trust with your future travels. The spirit of our culture – to 'look beyond' and 'it's about how we make people feel' – has been evident during this pandemic and this energy and empathy continues.

Current circumstances have certainly exposed the value of human connection in travel and the benefits of a personalised and attentive approach. Our long standing history of operational and service excellence has earned us the trust of our industry partners who have voted us 'Best Luxury Tour Operator' for the last three years and 'Luxury Team of the Year' in 2019.

Our commitment to uncompromising excellence amidst these uncertain times was also recently recognised by Which? The independent consumer body championing the cause for consumers, listed Carrier as one of the specialist and smaller holiday firms who is leading the way during COVID-19, abiding by the law and looking after customer interests.

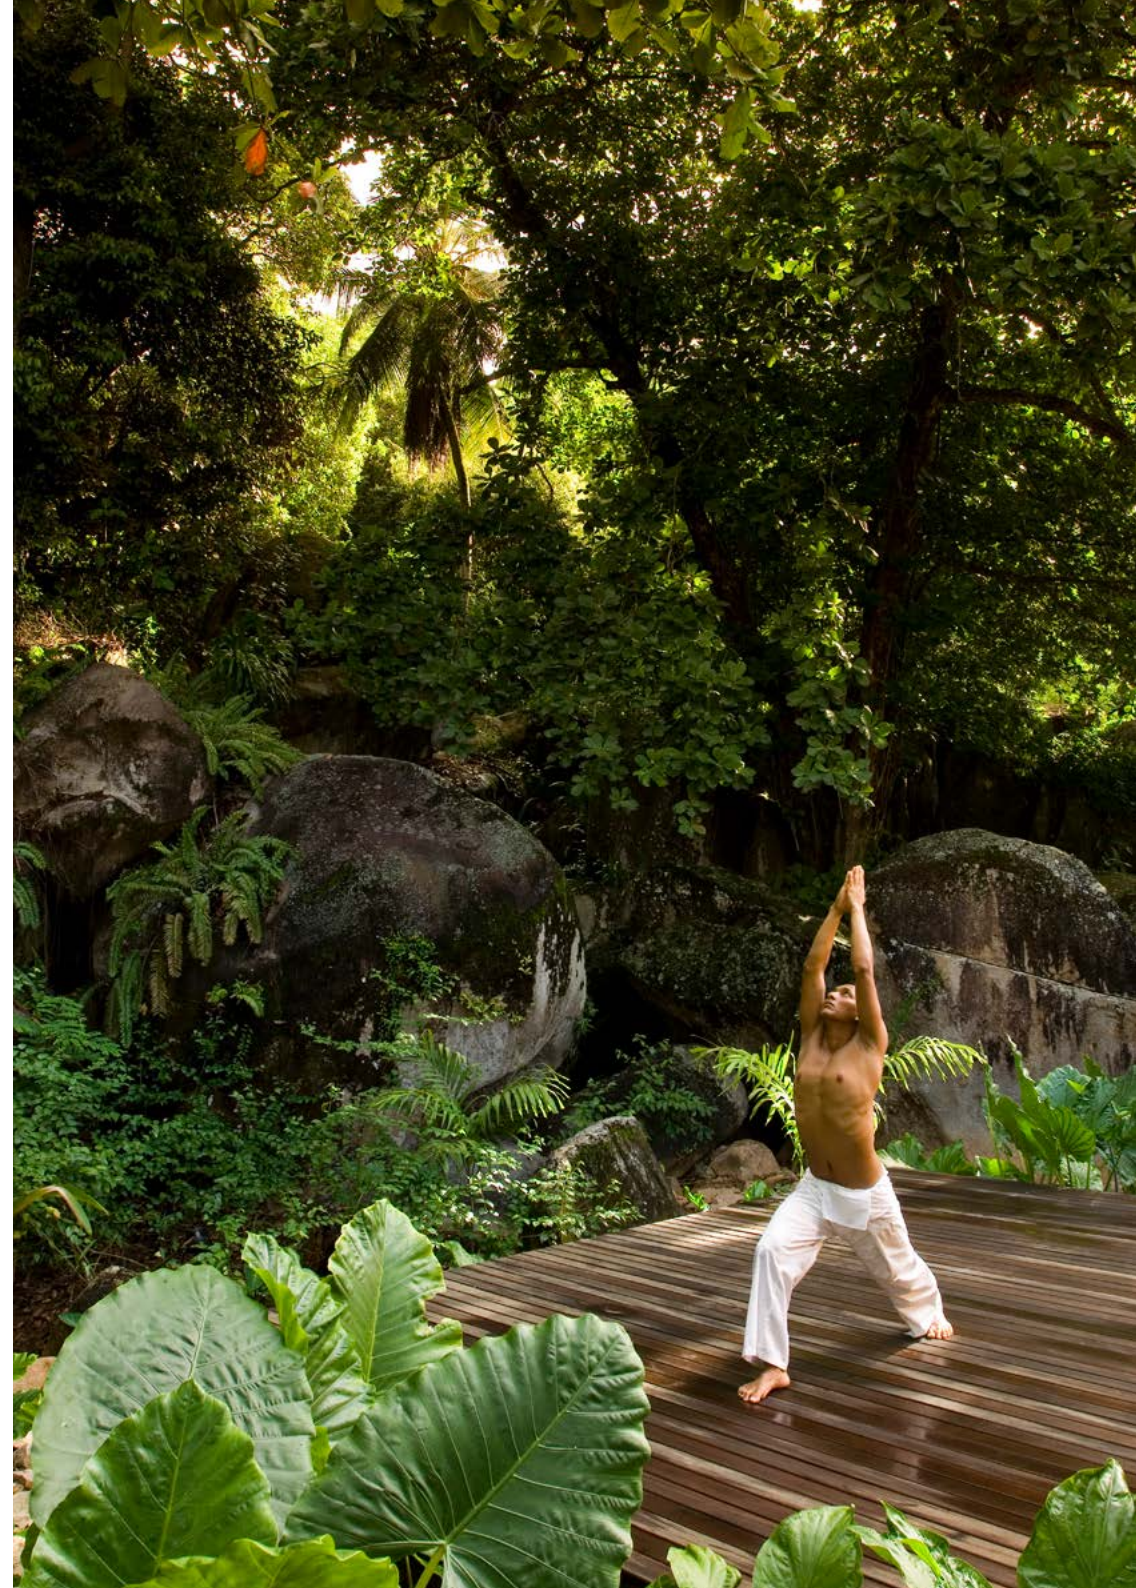

We don't take your trust lightly, nor do we ever downplay the significance of our diligence and careful attention to detail when it comes to your care – you can count on us to guide you to travelling once more.

Flexibility

DESIGNED AROUND YOU

We have always offered complete customisation and this includes flexibility with our terms and conditions. While bookings come with the necessary legal small print, in practice we don't hold clients to standard terms and conditions; offering flexibility with deposits and balance payments or due dates. Financially protecting our clients is a priority, and wherever possible we allow you to amend or cancel free of charge based on an agreed balance due date. Each booking is unique and bespoke and we offer a one-to-one personal service, tailoring terms and conditions to suit the individual wherever we can.

Costa Navarino: the under-the-radar sustainable destination for thoughtful family travellers

BLUE SKIES AHEAD

WITH EXTENSIVE GROUNDS, SUITES WITH PRIVATE INFINITY POOLS, AUTHENTIC EXPERIENCES AND GOURMET DINING, FAMILIES WILL FIND COUNTLESS WAYS TO EXPLORE AND PLAY

Untouched by mass tourism lies this unspoilt address in Greece

Enjoying a privileged position on the Ionian Sea coastline in Greece's south west Peloponnese is The Westin Resort Costa Navarino. For those craving a change in scenery and to embrace a different way of life, the philosophy here is driven by a genuine desire to promote Messinia, while protecting and preserving not only its natural beauty, but also a remarkable cultural heritage spanning 4,500 years. Enriching experiences you can share with locals include olive harvesting and traditional Messinian cooking with local women who reveal family recipes passed down from mother to daughter.

Curated with health and well-being in mind, your journey begins with a private airport experience. Avoiding the main terminals, crowds and queues, arrive directly at your very own lounge before passing through your personal check-in and security processes. Unwind with complimentary refreshments while you await boarding. You'll then be driven across the tarmac to the aircraft. On arrival a helicopter transfer will deliver you to the resort. Having reopened this summer with enhanced protocols, you'll have open-air spaces and a private infinity pool with views of the sprawling gardens. Central to resort life is the Agora village square with Greek amphitheatre and al fresco cinema. There are up to 21 restaurants, cafes and lounge bar options; while a private dining experience, a barbecue on the beach, or a farm-to-table expedition can all be arranged.

Families will find countless ways to explore and play. Two children hubs, the Aqua Park, an indoor sports arena, speed experience park, diving and snorkelling, an expansive Racquet Academy, two multi-awarded signature golf courses – the list goes on.

ROCCO FORTE HOTELS' FIRST RESORT STYLE PROPERTY HAS AN ABUNDANCE OF SPACE, MEANING YOU'LL ALWAYS EXPERIENCE A NATURAL FORM OF SOCIAL DISTANCING HERE

Best of both: go slow days to more energetic pursuits

The three-generation holiday is on the rise. After time apart, top of the list for many is a family holiday for all. For us, Verdura Resort – A Rocco Forte Hotel is an obvious choice. It's surrounded by its own vegetable garden, orange and olive groves and nearly two kilometres of private Mediterranean coastline. But above all, it's a place where you'll discover an outstanding level of service. Rocco Forte have implemented their own rigorous protocol, going above and beyond what is internationally required.

Curated with health and well-being in mind, your journey begins with a private airport experience. Avoiding the main terminals, crowds and queues, arrive directly at your very own lounge before passing through your personal check-in and security processes. Unwind with complimentary refreshments while you await boarding. You'll then be driven across the tarmac to the aircraft.

Following a private transfer to the resort, you can expect welcome champagne and a jet lag reviver treatment for two at the spa.

Akin to a private apartment, the Grand Suites are exquisitely appointed. Complete with kitchenette, dining and lounging areas with hammocks on a sea-facing double terrace, long leisurely days can be spent without the need to leave the suite at all. However, those who do, won't be left disappointed. Head to the golf, water sports and tennis clubs. Or perhaps learn a new skill at fencing, karate, bachata dancing and mixology classes, to name just a few. The list of activities in the area is equally lengthy and includes everything from sailing alongside the wild Torre Salsa Nature Reserve or exploring by horseback, to taking off on a helicopter tour over Mount Etna or discovering the island from behind the wheel of a Porsche 718 Boxster.

Puglian Privacy

Authentic Italian living at Borgo Egnazia

BLUE SKIES AHEAD

CHOOSE HOW TO SPEND TIME WITH THOSE YOU'VE MISSED MOST, IMMERSED IN THE BLISS OF WILDLY PRETTY BORGO EGNAZIA

An authentic Italian escape to a village of fairy-tale dreams

Surrounded by olive groves within vast grounds along the Puglian coast, Borgo Egnazia is, in our opinion, one of the prettiest places to stay in all of Italy. Built in the style of a traditional village (borgo), this whitewashed haven is a maze of paved alleyways reminiscent of a bygone era that open up to a masseria, central piazza and even a bell-towered church. There's no doubt that this luxurious resort will offer an experience like nowhere else.

Curated with your health and well-being in mind, your journey begins with a private airport experience. Arrive directly at your very own lounge before passing through your personal check-in and security processes. Unwind with complimentary refreshments in the privacy of your lounge while you await boarding. You'll then be driven across the tarmac to the aircraft. On arrival, you'll transfer to Borgo Egnazia with a personal driver.

In resort, you will be guaranteed maximum space and seclusion to connect with loved ones; your home for the next week will be Villa Bella, a three-story limestone townhouse offering three bedrooms, private swimming pool and a quiet Mediterranean garden overflowing with Indian figs and scented bougainvillea. A local advisor will be dedicated to you for the duration of the stay. With a wealth of knowledge on the surrounding area, they will take care of everything for you from check-in to check-out, including restaurant reservations and booking activities and tours for you to enjoy.

Don't be afraid to leave the sanctity of your private accommodation. The resort is doing everything they can to uphold exceptional hygiene standards and ensure the safety of guests. Get out to explore and you'll be spoiled for choice with the resort's three outdoor pools, dreamy VAIR spa, private beach and delicious dining options; from wood-fired pizzas at the poolside restaurant to Michelin-starred fare at Due Camini. Take the time to stroll through the narrow streets to discover hidden shops stocked full of unique items for you to take home and treasure. You can even learn how to create some of the most famous dishes of the region at the Trattoria Mia Cucina cookery school – this is a place that truly caters for all passions.

Add this to your places-to-wake-up-on-Christmas wish list

BLUE SKIES AHEAD

A TIME FOR FAMILY AND PURE CELEBRATION, THIS CHRISTMAS, ESCAPE WITH YOUR NEAREST AND DEAREST BY PRIVATE JET TO AN ISLAND UNMATCHED BY ANY OTHERS IN THE CARIBBEAN

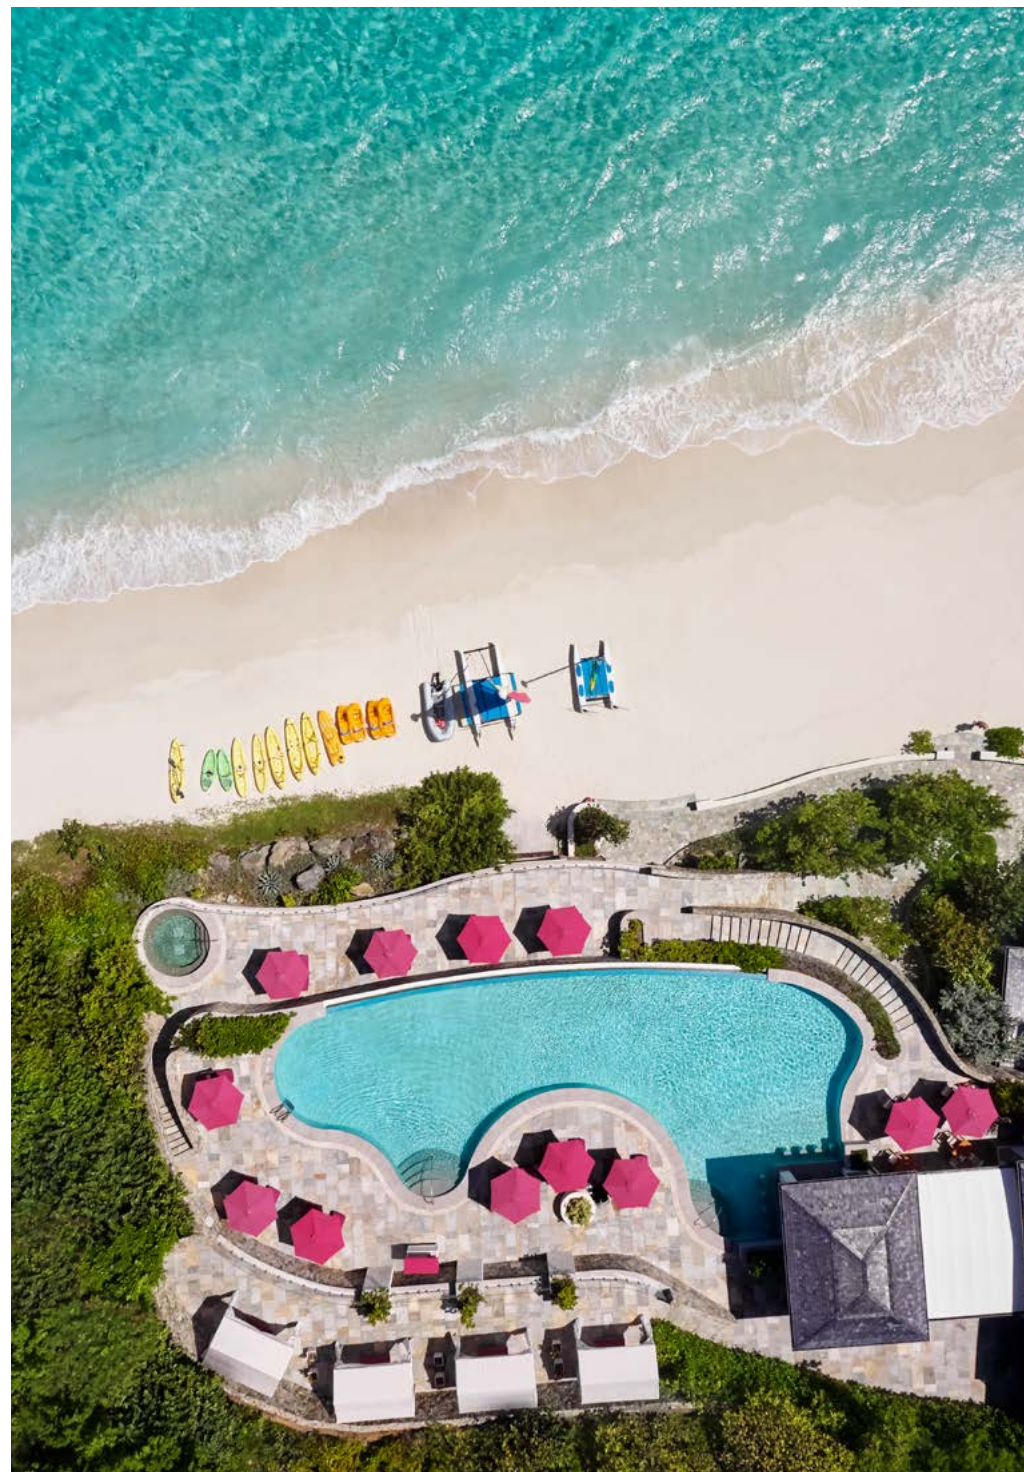

Swap snow for sun and sand this Christmas

For those who dream of replacing the festive rush and grey clouds for a week or two under brighter, bluer skies, living a slower pace of life – it's easy to understand Canouan's appeal. At just five square miles, the island's natural beauty creates a level of escapism difficult to find elsewhere. Golf carts replace cars, hummingbirds flit between lush foliage, while rays, eels, and fish teem through the reefs. With a superyacht marina and a glossy bay, this is fast becoming the next "it" destination in the Caribbean. And when so much of your contact and conversation has been virtual in recent months, Mandarin Oriental, Canouan is just the place to take time together offline and indulge in the greatest luxury of all: making memories with your loved ones.

Your journey begins as you travel by private jet from London. Instead of endless queuing and crowds, you'll arrive just 15 minutes before your flight to a private terminal and wait the short time in your own departure lounge. Once on board, you'll have the whole aircraft to yourself as you enjoy spacious luxury seats, bespoke refreshments and entertainment. Toast your arrival in Canouan with a negroni before being delivered to your home for the week: a two-bedroom villa. This elegant residence offers stylish indoor/outdoor living, effortlessly flowing between patio, covered living areas and the private pool deck. Perched at the top of the hillside, the views of Godhal Bay alone make the trip worth it.

You won't be leaving all of the festivities at home; get into the spirit with a performance by the local choir, gather the little ones on Christmas morning to meet Santa on the beach and expect fabulous culinary happenings throughout. If you time your stay right, you can be part of a momentous and memorable event – releasing Hawksbill turtles from the care of their sanctuary back into the wild.

Expertly uniting French finesse and Caribbean chill, this is our hideaway of choice for a quieter, more understated stay on the island

BLUE SKIES AHEAD

FRENCH WRITER, TRISTAN BERNARD PENNED, “REAL LAZINESS IS GETTING UP AT SIX IN THE MORNING TO TAKE LONGER TO DO NOTHING”, AND THIS IS THE KIND OF MOOD TO EXPECT AT LE TOINY IN ST BARTHS

The peak season choice for blissful refuge

A jet set, cosmopolitan crowd head to St Barths in the months of January and February to be part of the stylish and glamorous lifestyle. But hidden away on its own side of the island is Le Toiny, a Relais & Châteaux property attracting a particular type of guest – those who care less about Instagram posts, more about isolated peace. From plumped up sunbeds on the shore to hammocks strung up in the palm grove; from one-to-one sunrise yoga instruction to private heated infinity pools with panoramic sea views – this is the perfect resting spot for mind, body and soul. What’s more, this year it’s been transformed to ensure more privacy and space, alongside enhanced safety measures meaning your health and well-being are all taken care of.

Curated with additional care, your journey begins with a private airport experience in London. Avoiding the main terminals, crowds and queues, arrive directly at your very own lounge before passing through your personal check-in and security processes. Unwind with complimentary refreshments, before being driven directly to your aircraft to take your premium class seats. Arriving in Antigua, you’ll transfer in style by private charter to St Barths for a seamless and premium onward journey with Tradewind Aviation. There are just 14 secluded suites at Le Toiny and these rooms are simply gorgeous – less fussy, more fresh, with oversized everything. There’ll be little incentive to leave, until you’re lured away by the open-air Restaurant Le Gaïac (an island hotspot) and a scene at dinner and Sunday brunch that rivals the ocean vistas from your room.

If you’re feeling active there are water sports aplenty and the healing powers of the ocean can provide significant physiological and health benefits for when you return. There are numerous ways to explore St Barths from the deck of a boat to the seat of a scooter, and hikers will be in for quite a treat. This is a boho-beautiful, toes-in-the-sand, long-lunches kind of holiday where intimacy, exclusivity, rejuvenation and relaxation will characterize your stay.

This getaway offers you the chance to be one of the first to board the new London Heathrow to Barbados route with British Airways for a delightful pre-Christmas stay.

Curated with your safety and well-being in mind, your journey begins with a private airport experience. Avoiding the main terminals, crowds and queues, arrive directly at your very own lounge before passing through your personal check-in and security processes. Unwind with complimentary refreshments, before being driven across the tarmac to the aircraft. You'll transfer on arrival in Barbados to Coral Reef Club where you will be checked in to your Luxury Cottage Suite.

With lots of space to enjoy, it comes with a private plunge pool for cool dips in the privacy of your accommodation.

With a real focus on health and wellness the hotel's tropical garden spa is a blissful spot to restore balance. With waterfalls weaving throughout, it has treatment rooms with foot ritual patios, shaded cabanas around the hydro-pool and a thermal suite with a crystal steam room and experience shower. For something a little more active, spend some time on the water with complimentary watersports such as Hobie Cat and Laser sailing, kayaking, paddle boarding and snorkelling. Dinners are a formal, candlelit affair that begin with cocktails in the piano bar, before moving to the elegant waterfront restaurant. Dine on ever changing à la carte menus and new recipes created to support the local farmers.

Live out a modern-day Robinson Crusoe adventure

Enforced quiet and separation in recent months has reacquainted some of us with the value of peace, while solitude has also whet our appetite for the joys of being with others. For the perfect balance of both – enjoying seclusion with a small group of those closest to you – you'd do well to consider retreating to Gili Lankanfushi in the Maldives. Opening again after a recent refurb, sustainability and community continue to be the buzz-words at this iconic rustic-luxe property.

Curated with health and well-being in mind, your journey begins with a private airport experience. Avoiding the main terminals, crowds and queues, arrive directly at your very own lounge before passing through your personal check-in and security processes. Unwind with complimentary refreshments in the privacy of your lounge while you await boarding. You'll then be driven across the tarmac to the aircraft for your First class flight to the Maldives. A private yacht transfer awaits on arrival.

Gili Lankanfushi knows just how to make new guests feel special. Skiing and private house intimacy in Lech Austrian skiing tradition is enshrined in this renowned hotel, established by Olympic ski medallist Othmar Schneider. What already feels more like staying at a friend's residence than a hotel, for the 2020/21 season, Kristiania Lech will be operating a private house concept. With no access to outside visitors, this member of Small Luxury Hotels of the World will be running an intimate club with no more than 35 guests at any one time. Taking service to another level, you can be sure Kristiania's unique signature butler services remain – from the ski valet making sure you have everything on the slopes and the bath butler preparing a muscle-soothing soak after a long day of skiing, to the reading butler who will source your favourite books ahead of your arrival and the leisure time consultant guaranteeing every minute here is pure bliss.

Curated with your health and well-being in mind, your journey begins with a private airport experience. Avoiding the main terminals, crowds and queues, arrive directly at your very own lounge before passing through your personal check-in and security processes. Unwind with complimentary refreshments, before being driven across the tarmac to the aircraft. On arrival, a private transfer will deliver you to the boutique hotel and your home for the week. Original pieces of art are a huge part of the décor around the property – all of which is chosen by the hotel's dynamic owner. Your stay is fully catered to include breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea and dinner, so you can take all meals at the hotel without having to brave other restaurants if you prefer.

Some of our favourite non-skiing experiences include cinema under the stars, a Moroccan picnic in the snow, wine and cheese tastings, and deer watching from the hotel. But for the ultimate private ski experience, choose to go heli-skiing at the two locations in Austria where the bucket-list activity is permitted. A thrilling adrenaline-filled experience suitable for good intermediate skiers and above, travel by helicopter to make fresh tracks on otherwise inaccessible ski areas of untouched snow.

Bringing people together

BECAUSE A GOOD CHAT MEANS THE WORLD

As communities and brands came together (many luxury brands have been making face masks for the NHS or hand sanitiser for care homes) without manufacturing facilities we wanted to pursue ways we could support our communities through this pandemic and in doing so discovered a wonderful opportunity and cause.

As a human business, with people who thrive off conversation and who have inspirational stories to tell about the world, we partnered with Re-engage, a charity who needed call companions for those aged over 75 who were isolating and feeling lonely.

For our teams who were furloughed this gave them a renewed focus and purpose, which became extremely rewarding. Some of our employees discovered that Re-engage were also struggling to cope with demand (with over 2,000 applications from volunteers received since the start of the COVID-19 crisis), so rather than sit back and wait, members of our team are now helping with applications and have been recruited and trained to actually conduct interviews to clear the backlog of applications.

We plan to continue helping our elderly community, because a good chat really does mean the world.

For every booking we will make a donation that will support essential training for new volunteers, help bring friendship and laughter to an older person in need of company and help introduce new activities that avoid social contact but give companionship to older people who are more isolated.
